Zusammenfassung / Résumé

With the input of the Department of Player Safety and upon video review, Nando Eggenberger from HC Ambri-Piotta makes contact with an opponent deemed "Boarding" – IIHF Rule 41.

From the DPS's perspective, Eggenberger's actions require supplemental discipline.

As the video shows, #10 Andrighetto from Zurich takes the puck behind his own net. He is being pressured by #22 Kostner from Ambri. #10 plays the puck out from behind the net. #86 from ZSC Trutmann picks the puck up just around the bottom of the circle. He turns to his forehand side with the puck and is a good distance from the boards. At that moment he is hit in the back by #25 from Ambri, Eggenberger. #25 comes from the front of the net, has two hands on his stick, in a crosschecking motion gives #86 a shot in the back. Trutmann is knocked forwards and dangerously into the boards. Eggenberger arrives with speed and carries that into Trutmann, he has a slight bend in his arms and extends them forward, projecting #86 into the boards. The proximity to the boards makes this contact much more dangerous. Trutmann is unable to get his hands up to protect himself. The contact is not overly forceful but nevertheless contact as such is very dangerous and can have serious consequences. Contact as such must be avoided. Trutmann did not return to the game.
